

26th May: National Sorry Day

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uP-mg06Qjyc>

On the 26th of every May Australia celebrates the _____ to _____ and _____ the victims of the “Stolen generations”.

The National Sorry Day represents an important part in our struggle for _____.

With the arrival of Europeans Australians came _____, _____ and _____.

Between 1909 and 1969 one in three indigenous children were _____ from their families by _____ missions and the Australian _____ and placed with European Australian _____.

The government believed that indigenous Australians were in danger of dying out and that the _____ of life of indigenous children would be better with _____ Australians on the basis that they were somehow culturally, socially and technologically _____.

50 thousand _____ were removed from their families.

A petition was presented to the Parliament in _____.

Indigenous Australians were not allowed to _____ in any federal election until legislation was passed in 1962 granting them the _____ to do so.

vote - families - quality - superior - acknowledge - removed - war - church - federal government - recognize - white - disease - children - 1997 - reconciliation - right - National Sorry Day - social upheaval